Section I.b Admissions

Indicate when students are formally admitted into your initial teacher certification program:

Other Students are admitted at the end of the semester they take EDUC-M311, EDUC-M314, or EDUC-M310.

Does your initial teacher certification program conditionally admit students?

Yes

Provide a link to your website where additional information about admissions requirements can be found:

<https://www.iusb.edu/admissions/>

Please provide any additional comments about or exceptions to the admissions information provided above:

Please see <http://bulletins.iu.edu/iusb/2014-2015/schools/school-education/education-info.shtml#educ-admissions> for admissions standards for the School of Education and for our Teacher Education Program.

Students must be prepared to provide information from a limited criminal history check whenever they arrive at a school to complete a field experience. We do not specifically require one for admission to our teacher education program. Also students may use a minimum composite ACT or SAT instead of a minimum score on a basic skills test.

Section I.b Undergraduate Requirements

Please provide the following information about your teacher preparation program's entry and exit requirements. (§205(a)(1)(C)(ii))

Are there initial teacher certification programs at the undergraduate level?

Yes

If yes, for each element listed below, indicate if it is required for admission into or exit from any of your teacher preparation program(s) at the Undergraduate level.

Section I.c Enrollment

Provide the number of students in the teacher preparation program in the following categories. Note that you must report on the number of students by ethnicity and race separately. Individuals who are non-Hispanic/Latino will be reported in one of the race categories. Also note that individuals can belong to one or more racial groups, so the sum of the members of each racial category may not necessarily add up to the total number of students enrolled.

For the purpose of Title III reporting, an enrolled student is defined as a student who has been admitted to a teacher preparation program, but who has not completed the program during the academic year being reported. An individual who completed the program during the academic year being reported is counted as a program completer and not an enrolled student.

Additional guidance on reporting race and ethnicity data.

Please provide any additional information about or descriptions of the supervised clinical experiences:

Section I.e Teachers Prepared by Subject Area

Please provide the number of teachers prepared by subject area for academic year 2015-16. For the purposes of this section, number prepared means the number of program completers. "Subject area" refers to the subject area(s) an individual has been prepared to teach. An individual can be counted in more than one subject area. If no individuals were prepared in a particular subject area, please leave that cell blank. (§205(b)(1)(H))

Section I.f Program Completers

Provide the total number of teacher preparation program completers in each of the following academic years:

2015-16:

2014-15: 74

2013-14: 68

Section II Annual Goals - Mathematics

Each institution of higher education (IHE) that conducts a traditional teacher preparation program (including programs that offer any ongoing professional development programs) or alternative route to state credential program, and that enrolls students receiving Federal assistance under this Act, shall set annual quantifiable goals for increasing the number of prospective teachers trained in teacher shortage areas designated by the Secretary or by the state educational agency, including mathematics, science, special education, and instruction of limited English proficient students. (§205(a)(1)(A)(iii), §206(a))

Information about teacher shortage areas can be found at <http://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/oipe/pol/tsa.html>.

Please provide the information below about your program's goals to increase the number of prospective teachers in mathematics in each of three academic years.

Academic year 2015-16

Did your program prepare teachers in mathematics in 2015-16?

Yes

How many prospective teachers did your program plan to add in mathematics in 2015-16?

Did your program meet the goal for prospective teachers set in mathematics in 2015-16?

Data not reported

Description of strategies used to achieve goal, if applicable:

Description of steps to improve performance in meeting goal or lessons learned in meeting goal, if applicable:

Provide any additional comments, exceptions and explanations below:

The number of education seniors majoring in mathematics has dropped, however the overall number of education mathematics majors has increased. We continue to look into why it takes more than 4 years for students to complete the program.

Academic year 2016-17

Is your program preparing teachers in mathematics in 2016-17?

Yes

How many prospective teachers did your program plan to add in mathematics in 2016-17?

Provide any additional comments, exceptions and explanations below:

We currently have 5 math majors approaching the student teaching experience in 2016-2017.

Academic year 2017-18

Will your program prepare teachers in mathematics in 2017-18?

How many prospective teachers does your program plan to add in mathematics in 2017-18?

Provide any additional comments, exceptions and explanations below:

Section II Annual Goals - Science

Each institution of higher education (IHIE) that conducts a traditional teacher preparation program (including programs that offer any ongoing professional development programs) or alternative route to state credential program, and that enrolls students receiving Federal assistance under this Act, shall set annual quantifiable goals for increasing the number of prospective teachers trained in teacher shortage areas designated by the Secretary or by the state educational agency, including mathematics, science, special education, and instruction of limited English proficient students. (§205(a)(1)(A)(iii), §206(a))

Information about teacher shortage areas can be found at <http://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ope/pol/tsa.html>.

Please provide the information below about your program's goals to increase the number of prospective teachers in science in each of three academic years.

Did your program meet the goal for prospective teachers set in science in 2015-16?

Data not reported

Description of strategies used to achieve goal, if applicable:

Description of steps to improve performance in meeting goal or lessons learned in meeting goal, if applicable:

Provide any additional comments, exceptions and explanations below:

The School of Education will actually graduate 2 science educators in spring 2016. In December 2013 the School of Education hired a recruiter to improve enrollment in all areas. Special attention was paid to science majors, but the results of these efforts will not become evident for several years.

Academic year 2016-17

Is your program preparing teachers in science in 2016-17?

No

How many prospective teachers did your program plan to add in science in 2016-17?

Provide any additional comments, exceptions and explanations below:

It does not appear that we have any science educators completing their programs in 2016 - 2017.

Description of steps to improve performance in meeting goal or lessons learned in meeting goal, if applicable:

Provide any additional comments, exceptions and explanations below:

The number of traditional program completers will decrease in 2015 - 2016. We continue to try to recruit students into this critical shortage area. We expect to graduate 6 program completers prepared to be licensed in special education in 2015-2016.

Academic year 2016-17

Is your program preparing teachers in special education in 2016-17?

Yes

How many prospective teachers did your program plan to add in special education in 2016-17?

Section II Assurances

Please certify that your institution is in compliance with the following assurances. (§205(a)(1)(A)(iii), §206(b)) Note: Be prepared to provide documentation and evidence for your responses, when requested, to support the following assurances.

Preparation responds to the identified needs of the local educational agencies or States where the program completers are likely to teach, based on past hiring and recruitment trends.

Yes

Preparation is closely linked with the needs of schools and the instructional decisions new teachers face in the classroom.

Yes

Prospective special education teachers are prepared in core academic subjects and to instruct in core academic subjects.

Yes

Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to students with disabilities.

Yes

Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to limited English proficient students.

Yes

Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to students from low-income families.

Yes

Prospective teachers are prepared to effectively teach in urban and rural schools, as applicable.

No

Describe your institution's most successful strategies in meeting the assurances listed above:

Students take at least one three credit hour course on exceptionalities. Some majors require two three-credit hour courses in working with children and youth with disabilities. Information about working with students with limited English proficiency is infused in a variety of courses. In general, the curriculum for all programs includes the areas in this Assurances list with the exception of teaching students in rural schools. We are engaging in conversations now about a possible field experience in a rural area.

Section III Assessment Pass Rates

No assessment pass rates have been reported.

Please note that pass rates will be provided to Westat by the state or the testing company or companies (or entities). You do not need to upload or submit any files for this section.

You will be notified via email once pass rates have been uploaded. Please be sure to review the pass rates for accuracy once they are uploaded. Westat expects to receive and upload pass rate files for most programs by mid-April.

Section III Summary Pass Rates

No summary pass rates have been reported.

Please note that pass rates will be provided to Westat by the state or the testing company or companies (or entities). You do not need to upload or submit any files for this section.

You will be notified via email once pass rates have been uploaded. Please be sure to review the pass rates for accuracy once they are uploaded. Westat expects to receive and upload pass rate files for most programs by mid-April.

Section IV Low-Performing

Provide the following information about the approval or accreditation of your teacher preparation program.

Is your teacher preparation program currently approved or accredited?

Yes

If yes, please specify the organization(s) that approved or accredited your program:

State

NCATE

No

Section V Use of Technology

Provide the following information about the use of technology in your teacher preparation program. Please note that choosing 'yes' indicates that your teacher preparation program would be able to provide evidence upon request.

Does your program prepare teachers to:

- integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction
Yes
- use technology effectively to collect data to improve teaching and learning
Yes
- use technology effectively to manage data to improve teaching and learning
Yes
- use technology effectively to analyze data to improve teaching and learning
Yes

Provide a description of the evidence that your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction, and to use technology effectively to collect, manage, and analyze data in order to improve teaching and learning for the purpose of increasing student academic achievement. Include a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to use the principles of universal design for learning, as applicable. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the four elements listed above are not currently in place.

All students take a class titled Using Computers in Education in their sophomore year. Skills learned in this course include both pedagogical tools for teaching and learning and operational tools for navigating technology-based resources necessary for functioning as a student in the university. These applications are then integrated into subsequent coursework.

In some courses, students use spreadsheets and graphing to analyze data. Management of data from multiple sources for an entire class has been strengthened for all majors. Students majoring in secondary education illustrate student achievement data using technology tools and provide a portfolio of student achievement as part of their exit requirements. Secondary education students beginning in the fall 2009 semester are required to take a class titled Assessment in the Schools. This class has a focus on managing data. Students majoring in special education also complete a class titled Academic and Behavioral Assessment which utilizes technology related to curriculum-based assessment. Elementary candidates go through a series of assessment strategies as they move from their first block class through student teaching. Each of the strategies is designed to teach candidates how to aggregate data through technology to inform instruction. These strategies were introduced in classes during the spring 2009 semester and continue to be infused throughout the program.

Beginning in fall 2012 all students entering the School of Education were required to purchase a laptop computer for use in all classes. Faculty have engaged in professional development during the 2011-2012 year to prepare for this new initiative. A new technology class EDUC W310 Integrating Technology in K-12 Education is now required of all education majors.

Universal design for learning is reflected in the rubric used to assess artifacts in our traditional teacher education programs. Lesson plans and teaching episodes are assessed with an eye for the ability to provide multiple representations of concepts and use multiple methods of assessing student learning. See rubric attached at the end of this report.

Section VI Teacher Training

Provide the following information about your teacher preparation program. Please note that choosing 'yes' indicates that your teacher preparation program would be able to provide evidence upon request.

Does your program prepare general education teachers to:

- teach students with disabilities effectively
Yes
- participate as a member of individualized education program teams
Yes
- teach students who are limited English proficient effectively
Yes

Provide a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares general education teachers to teach students with disabilities effectively, including training related to participation as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, and to effectively teach students who are limited English proficient. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the three elements listed above are not currently in place.

Students in our traditional programs take at least one three credit hour course about students with exceptional needs. Students learn about the legal requirements and the components of an IEP and begin to become acquainted with strategies for working with students with disabilities. In addition, a special education concentration was created as an option for elementary candidates. Information about teaching students with limited English proficiency is infused in other coursework and we continue to work on improving this area. We continue to look for additional professional development opportunities for faculty in this area.

Does your program prepare special education teachers to:

- teach students with disabilities effectively
Yes
- participate as a member of individualized education program teams
Yes
- teach students who are limited English proficient effectively
Yes

Provide a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares special education teachers to teach students with disabilities effectively, including training related to participation as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals three elements listed above are not currently in place.

Many of the special education courses and field-based experiences were designed to meet the Council for Exceptional Children Standards and teach special education teachers to meet the needs of students with disabilities effectively. Components of IEP are taught in many of the classes. However, students are expected to participate in IEP meetings during student teaching. Teaching students who are limited English proficient is an area of the curriculum that we continue to strengthen.

Section VII Contextual Information

Please use this space to provide any additional information that describes your teacher preparation program(s). You may also attach information to this report card. The U.S. Department of Education is especially interested in any evaluation plans or interim or final reports that may be available.

The School of Education developed a new strategic plan and mission statement that received final approval in fall 2014. This will guide the development of future programs and continuous improvement decisions.
